Watchman Slain In Darkness

Assassin Shoots Down Federal Employee
At Watertown—Victim
Found Dead

What would appear to be a cold-blooded murder occurred at Watertown this morning between the hours of 12:30 and 1 o'clock. A Hawaiian named Mahu, who is employed by the Federal Government as a night watchman, was shot dead as he went his rounds at the reservation. The dead body of the man was found at daylight by another watchman, and he at once notified the authorities. Mahu had been killed instantly, and his own revolver was found in his pocket; none of the chambers had been discharged, and, judging from the wound in his head, the murderer had also used a revolver in his fiendish work. Deputy Sheriff Rose was notified over the telephone of the murder, and at once informed Sheriff Jarrett, who, with Chief McDuffie and Marshal Hendry, at once started in an automobile for Watertown. The dead man is a well-known character and he, before becoming watchman, made his living by fishing. He was about forty-five years of age and of strong physique. For many years Mahu had resided on his own plot of land at Pearl Harbor, and he was regarded as a man who could take care of himself. The sheriff and chief of detectives have already formed an opinion as to who did the shooting, and their visit to Watertown should clear the matter up. Deputy Sheriff Fernandez, (Continued on Page 4)

MENTION JUDD AS ATTORNEY-GENERAL

Is Albert F. Judd, the well-known attorney and a member of the firm of Judd & Lindsay, in line for appointment to the office of Attorney-General for the Territory of Hawaii? An important and extended conference was held within the robbins-egg-blue chamber of the Capitol building this morning. At this meeting, it is said, were Governor Frear, Chief Justice Hartwell and one or two others prominently identified with the judiciary of the Territory. It is declared that during this solemn convocation the matter of a successor to Attorney-General Hemenway was discussed and the qualifications of several aspirants came up for consideration. There are those who profess to be on the inside who declare Judd can have the vacant office should he but say the word. Deputy Attorney-General Lorrin Andrews does not pine for political preferment; at least, not along lines that would result in his elevation to the Attorney-Generalship of the Territory of Hawaii. A close and intimate friend of Andrews offered a wager before a half dozen lawyers and political leaders who had gathered at the city hall this morning, that Andrews would not receive the appointment as Attorney-General, at the gift of Governor Frear, and, furthermore, it was positively stated that Andrews possessed not the slightest longing for the office. The gold-piece found no takers. In the meantime, the executive continues to play the role of sphinx, and, as one well-known Republican committeeman said this morning, he is an "uncommunicative as the proverbial clam." "We all know Frear," said the committeeman, and if the Robbins Anderson recommendation as Associate Justice to the Supreme Court can be taken as an indication of the Governor's attitude in reference to the popular will of the people, it is safe to assume that whatever recommendation or suggestion might come from the Republican Territorial Committee would have but little weight in the determination of a fitting choice for Hemenway's position. Several rising young attorneys have been more or less freely mentioned as possibilities for the Attorney-Generalship of the Territory. Robbins Anderson, who was turned down for the Supreme Bench after the recommendation of Frear, is considered a live eligible. Then there is Fred Milverton, the second deputy attorney for the city and county of Honolulu, who is believed would not be adverse to accepting higher honors. Attorney Larnach, who at one time was a deputy in the Attorney-General's office, has also been suggested as among those present among the little string of possibilities.

CUSTOMS MEN COMING

It is reported that the P. M. liner Manchuria, due here from the Coast, has on board a number of customs inspectors, sent down by Collector Stratton of San Francisco. These customs inspectors will depart on the round-the-world steamship Cleveland and will examine the baggage of the passengers en route to the Coast, thereby saving any delay to the passengers.

MRS. METCALF DEAD

Relatives and friends were shocked in Honolulu this morning to hear of the death of Mrs. Metcalf, wife of Jack Metcalf, the bookkeeper at Papakou, Hawaii. Little is known of the death, excepting that it occurred Saturday evening. Mrs. Metcalf was the youngest daughter of Mr. Peck, a resident of Honolulu, who for many years was an employee of the Hilo Bank. Mrs. Metcalf had a large acquaintance in Honolulu and on Hawaii.

TUBERCULOSIS TEST FOR CITY MILK

A new milk ordinance which has met with the unanimous approval of the health and sanitation committee of the city and county supervisors is in a fair way of passing the board and becoming a law. The draft of the ordinance has now been submitted to the Territorial Board of Agriculture for ratification. Saturday evening Chairman Aylett and Members Logan and McChesney of the health committee met and evolved the new and highly important ordinance. It will be remembered that a former measure was killed by the majority vote of the supervisors some months ago. It being claimed that the ordinance was ill adapted to the conditions obtaining in the city and county of Honolulu.

The contention was raised that the ordinance was too elaborate in character and imposed much hardship as well as expense upon the small dairymen. The tuberculosis test is retained in the new ordinance. It is also provided that no fee will be charged the local dairymen for making an examination of their cattle. The Board of Agriculture will look after this important work and all that they ask from the city and county will be the assistance of two helpers for a few weeks during the period for making the examinations. The tuberculosis test is considered of the highest consequence in the drafting of the new milk ordinance. The measure may be brought up before the next meeting of the city fathers for adoption.

"NOTHING TO SAY"—GOV. FREAR

In response to a question this afternoon as to whether he intended to resign as a result of Judge De Bolt being named for the Supreme Bench in place of his nominee, Robbins B. Anderson, Governor Frear declared: "I have nothing to say on the subject." This is presumed to mean that there is some ground for the report of the Governor's resignation in the near future, as a result of the National Administration acting contrary to his recommendation.

Robertson U. S. Judge; Robinson Is Reappointed

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 17.—President Taft today appointed A. G. M. Robertson, Second United States Judge; John T. De Bolt, Associate of the Territorial Supreme Court, and W. J. Robinson, Judge of the Circuit Court.

This is the special cablegram that was received this morning, later confirmed by an Associated Press dispatch, and putting a final end to the doubt existing on the judicial vacancies—naming A. G. M. Robertson as a colleague of Judge Sanford B. Dole on the bench of the United States District Court; Circuit Judge John T.

A. G. M. ROBERTSON
United States Judge.

De Bolt to take the place on the bench of the Territorial Supreme Court made vacant by the resignation of former Associate Justice Arthur Wilder. The cablegram also puts an end to all doubt and shows that President Taft and Attorney-General Wickersham have decided that Third Judge William Robinson of the Circuit Court is eminently qualified to sit for another four years, and although his present commission does not expire until March 6, have sent his name to the Senate, disposing of all of Hawaii's judicial vacancies at one time. RAINFALL AHEAD OF LAST YEAR

A regular NE. trade wind blew yesterday, accompanied at intervals by heavy rain. This apparently did not deter people from going to church, as St. Andrew's cathedral was packed in the morning. Rev. Mr. Bliss congratulated the congregation for making the sacrifice in face of such inclement weather. According to readings at the United States Weather Bureau at the Young, the total rainfall to date since January 1, 1910, is 3.06 inches. The total rainfall for the same period last year was only 1.84 inches. Since noon last Saturday, when the storm began, 1.83 inches of rain have fallen, or nearly as much rain as fell from January 1, 1909, to January 17, 1909. At 8 p. m. on Saturday last, .32 inch was registered. During the night heavy rain set in at intervals, so that by 8 a. m. yesterday, .58 inch had fallen. From that time until 8 p. m., .54 inch fell, and during last night until 8 a. m. this morning, .38 (Continued on Page 4)

Teachers To Get Increase

Commissioners of Public Instruction
Also Consider Examination
Problem

The Commissioners of Public Instruction with the new Superintendent, Willis T. Pope in the chair, resumed their sitting this morning, continuing the consideration of a number of the rules governing the schools of the Territory. The problem involved in the restoration of the salaries of the teachers whose stipends were reduced during the reign of economy over two years ago was also discussed by the commissioners. A tentative plan was agreed upon whereby a scale of increase will be inaugurated in about June next at the rate of $5 per month by which some of the teachers whose salaries were reduced at that time will be returned to their former ratings. The department has also gone on record as being opposed to reopening the case of Mrs. T. Nettie Scott and will not again take up the evidence in the case. It became plain at the Board meeting that the new administration is not greatly in favor of the idea of teachers examination that have been under discussion. Commissioner Allen, in connection with the application of Miss Needham for a certificate, showed that the Board had already gone on record as not being in favor of compelling old teachers to take examinations and it is believed that this policy will be adhered to. The members of the Board of Public Instruction present this morning were: Willis T. Pope, Superintendent (Continued on Page 4)

CANDIDATES APPEAR FOR DE BOLT'S PLACE

Coincident with the cabled announcement of President Taft's nomination of Circuit Judge De Bolt for the Supreme Court, a campaign has been instituted by those who are interested in De Bolt's successor on the Circuit bench. The abilities of a Circuit judge are being put to the test continuously, and as far as every-day practice is concerned, the members of the bar are more interested in the selecting of a successor for De Bolt than they are in the naming of the man to fill a vacancy on the Supreme Court.

William T. Rawlins, Deputy United States District Attorney, is considered the leading candidate for the place on the Circuit bench, and with him are Robbins B. Anderson, whose aspirations for the Supreme Court will not be fulfilled, and District Attorney Andrade. Rawlins has a number of strong supporters and it is now believed that he has a good chance for appointment.

McBryde, Oahu, Hutchinson, Paauhau and Hawaiian Commercial were the principals in the upward trend of the stock prices today. Over a thousand shares of McBryde changed hands between Saturday forenoon and this morning at prices ranging from 7.25 to 7.50, and it is still held at 7.50 with no indication of a slump. Oahu Sugar sold on the board at 35, an advance of fifty cents a share over Saturday's sales, and very little in the market at that. Hawaiian Commercial is strong at 38.50 and is due to go higher. Paauhau is being bought up from San Francisco sellers at 29.25 and seems to be advancing in company with Hutchinson. Fifty shares of Honokaa sold today at 22, fifty of Oahu at 6.25 and twenty of Hawaiian Sugar at 55. The whole list is very firm. One of
